Ike To Ask Extension Of Draft Law

Washington (AP)—The Eisenhower administration disclosed yesterday it will ask Congress to extend the draft law beyond its 1955 expiration date even if fighting ends in Korea.

American defenses will remain "strong and alert" no matter how the international situation changes in the next few years, Dr. John A. Hannah, assistant secretary of defense for manpower, told the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

A year from now, he said, defense chiefs will be appearing before Congress asking for an extension of the Selective Service Act. It is scheduled to expire June 30, 1955.

"Should there be a period of relaxing international tension meanwhile," Hannah stated, "we hope the newspapers of the country will explain and reiterate to the people of the country the necessity for keeping our defenses strong and alert, even though it entails drafting all young men for two years of involuntary service."

Congress will also be asked to continue the draft of medical officers beyond the June 30, 1954, expiration date, Hannah said.

The manpower chief estimated that in about 30 months the country will have exhausted its pool of men who can meet the current physical and mental standards for military service.

Assuming first that the strength of our uniformed forces will be continued at or near the present strength of 3½ million men and women, and second that the period of involuntary service remains at 24 months, we will continue to use manpower faster than the males in our population turn 18½ years of age and become eligible to be drafted," he said.

The "hard and unpleasant" facts of the draft situation, Hannah said, are a spur to the Defense Department to find better ways of using the country's military manpower. Studies are now under way toward this end, he said.

Secretary of Defense Wilson indicated recently that every effort would be made to reduce the military's manpower requirements without endangering national security. One aim is to level off the monthly draft quotas at a lower and more constant rate.

Globulin To Be Distributed

Harrisburg, (AP)—The State Health Department said yesterday that it has been granted a preliminary allocation of 170,000 cubic centimeters of gamma globulin for use in the prevention of polio, measles and yellow jaundice.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, health secretary, was uncertain what Pennsylvania's total allocation will be.

He explained that the Office of Defense Mobilization has authorized 60 cu. ft. of globulin for each of Pennsylvania's average number of polio cases in the past five years.

He added that there will be a special allocation for the fight against measles and yellow jaundice.

Dr. Teague said the anti-polio allocation will be shared in this way:

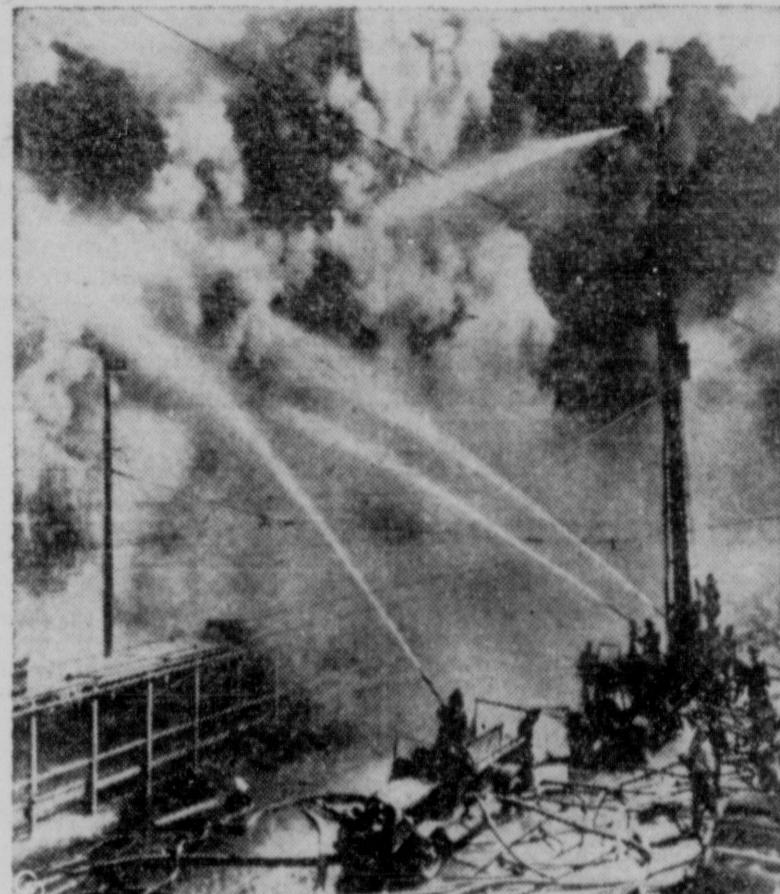

One fifty-seven per cent for immunization of household contacts of a case.

Two thirty-three per cent for contingencies.

The health secretary said the globulin will be distributed to physicians through local health departments at Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, county health departments and county medical directors.

He said the exact manner in which the physicians will get the globulin has not yet been determined.

Dr. Teague defined gamma globulin as a fraction of the protein part of blood plasma that contains anti-bodies.

FIREMEN BATTLE a blaze that followed an explosion in a five-story brick building housing a manufacturing firm on Chicago's North Side. A mile-square area was rocked by the blast. Twenty-seven persons were killed, six are missing and 37 were listed as injured.

Toll Of Dead In Chicago Explosion-Fire Reaches 27 With 6 Others Still Missing

Chicago, (AP)—Eleven more bodies were recovered yesterday from the smoldering ruins of a four-story North Side factory, bringing to 27 the toll of known dead in Thursday's explosion and fire.

Six other employees of the wrecked plant were listed as missing and firemen feared some of them may have perished in the fast-spreading, tottering, empty shell.

Wrecking crews turned over debris with giant power shovels in the belief that more victims may be buried in the basement of the Haber Corp. plant.

At hospitals, some workers burned in the wind-whipped inferno were reported in critical condition.

Thirty-seven persons were injured in the blaze. Many leaped from the building in screaming panic, their clothing in flames—within minutes after the fire broke out.

The victims included men and women.

Workers listed as missing were those believed in the plant at the time of the fire and not accounted for since. Relatives of the missing mixed with the crowd of curious onlookers who watched search operations at the plant, which turned out electrical parts and appliances.

Meanwhile, a coroner's jury met to seek the cause of the explosion and fire, which wrecked the factory while some 90 employees were at work.

Favorable action by the Watkins committee would mean the bill would go to the Senate floor for a vote. If the committee meeting is not held next week it will be staged the following week, Watkins said.

Committee action on the bill will bring into focus numerous ideas designed to crack down on "relief chiselers."

Under existing law information on persons receiving only general assistance is open to the public. The "omnibus" relief bill, which is sponsored by chairman Watkins, would extend the law to make public the names of all those on rolls for the aged, blind, dependent children and disabled as well.

Yesterday morning presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty was some better but still had some abdominal pain and planned to spend the day in bed. During the day, however, Eisenhower improved steadily and he left his vacation cottage at the Augusta National Golf Club to sit in the sun.

Hagerty said Eisenhower watched fellow club members from the first and 10th tees for a while and that he hoped to be playing golf again today.

The President had no trace of any fever all day, Hagerty added.

Utility Workers Union Asks Vote

Philadelphia, (AP)—The regional office of the National Labor Relations Board said yesterday it is investigating a petition filed by a CIO-Utility Workers Union for a bargaining election among some 5,000 employees of the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. in the Keystone State.

The workers now are represented by an independent union.

An NLRB spokesman said the board will conduct a hearing here Tuesday "on the merits" of the CIO petition.

Dr. Teague defined gamma globulin as a fraction of the protein part of blood plasma that contains anti-bodies.

House Group Slashes Low Rent Housing

Washington (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee took a $21½ million dollar swipe at the first of the regular money bills yesterday and set the stage for a probable floor fight next week by voting to choke off the government's low rent housing program.

Some Democrats called the slashes in former President Truman's budget "phony," and said much of the money would have to be appropriated later.

The bill approved by the committee would appropriate $451,020,493 for 23 independent federal agencies for the 1954 fiscal year starting on July 1.

The committee figured this was $721,423,697 less than original Truman budget estimates, or a cut of 61 per cent. It is $542,516,350 less than the amount voted for the same agencies last year and, if sustained by Congress, will mean deep personnel cuts in many agencies.

In addition to cutting off the housing program, the committee will start getting the government out of the mortgage and housing business by requiring it to dispose of home mortgages it now holds and to refund local housing bonds held by the Public Housing Administration.

The committee figures this would net the Treasury $1,954,472,000.

Altogether it was the biggest cut ever imposed on the independent offices appropriation bill.

The committee knocked out the entire $176,139,000 requested in Truman's January budget for the government's normal contribution to the civil service retirement and disability fund as well as all of the $192,015,000 requested for payment of interest on what the government already owes the fund. Operation of such a fund, the committee said, results in accumulation of money that might be put to better use.

The effect of the committee's action is merely to defer payment rather than to effect an economy, since they contend the government will have to put up the money eventually when contributions from federal employees to the fund are not adequate to meet retirement payments.

Bakery Helper Faces Charge Of Murder

Harrisburg, (AP)—State Police Sgt. Robert Letee said yesterday that a 32-year-old Wilkes-Barre bakery employee will be charged with murder in the death of Mrs. Joanna Kurtz, 94, of Tunkhannock.

Mrs. Kurtz was found strangled Thursday in her home. An electric light cord was fastened to the bottom post of the staircase and hooked around her neck. She had lived alone since her husband died in 1926.

Letee said William J. Johnson, an ex-convict once adjudged insane, would "definitely be arraigned on a murder charge."

Mrs. Kurtz was the oldest living graduate of Wyoming Seminary and was a member of a pioneer Wilkes-Barre family.

Johnson, a former inmate of Farview Hospital for the Criminal Insane, is being held in the Wyoming County prison at Tunkhannock. He was employed as a helper for the past seven months at a Wilkes-Barre bakery.

Police arrested Johnson in Wilkes-Barre after he appeared at the Citizens' National Bank, Tunkhannock, Thursday and tendered a check for $800, purportedly signed by Mrs. Kurtz. A cashier who knew Johnson became suspicious and called the Kurtz residence. He received no answer and Johnson left the bank with the chemical unashed.

Sunday School Lesson

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
Scripture: Acts 11:19-26; 13:14.

How different is travel in the world of today than it was in New Testament times. Today no country in the world is so far away from us that we cannot fly to it in a very short time. As an example, today one could fly from Spain to Antioch within 24 hours. In Paul's time it would have taken two months or more of travel-hard, wearisome toll on foot or by sailboat.

After Stephen's death, the disciples of Christ were cruelly persecuted, so many fled to such places as Phenice, Cyprus and Antioch, in Syria. In these places they continued to preach the word of God, and many converts were made, not only of Jews, but also Greeks.

When the tidings of this reached the church in Jerusalem, they sent Barnabas to Antioch. He rejoiced at what he saw there and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord." Barnabas was a "good man." St. Luke tells us, "full of the Holy Ghost and of faith."

Evidently feeling that more than his work was needed in Antioch, Barnabas went to Tarsus, where Paul was, and brought Paul back with him. The two labored with other prophets and teachers, "ministering to the Lord and fasting," until the Holy Ghost directed that they send Paul and Barnabas on their first missionary journey. The church fathers "laid their hands on the two, and they sailed to Cyprus."

When Paul and Barnabas had gone through Cyprus to Paphos, they found a sorcerer, or false prophet with a Roman governor, Sergius Paulus, who was anxious to hear the word of God. Bar-Jesus or Elymas, the sorcerer, tried to drive the disciples away, but Paul looked at him, and rebuked him most severely, saying:

"O full of all subtlety and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, will thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord? And now, behold the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season." Immediately the man lost his sight. When Paulus saw that miracle, he believed.

Leaving Cyprus the missionaries went to Antioch in Pisidia. Gook on the map of Paul's journeys to locate this other Antioch where, apparently, there had been no Christian activity). There Paul gave his first missionary sermon, giving a brief history of the Jewish nation and how God had led His people out of Egypt into the wilderness and had cared for them all the way.

Then he told of the coming of High walls, barred windows, armed guards—is this the cure for crime?

When a disease epidemic breaks out in America, we stop at nothing to find the source of trouble. Millions are spent each year on research for infantile paralysis, tuberculosis, heart disease, cancer.

But what is our cure for crime? Our government spends millions annually for law enforcement, for the building of jails and penitentiaries, but it does little to prevent crime. Legal punishment is costly and ineffective. It is not a cure!

"Overcome evil with good." This is the only cure for the disease of crime. This is the spirit of Christ that we must nurture in the hearts of our youth. This is our hope for tomorrow—that men will learn to live by understanding and love, not by law and punishment. A better world will come only with better people.

You and your children will find the true way of life taught in the churches and church schools of America. It is the privilege and duty of all to attend church services regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Unpopular Savings

The unpopularity of cutting federal expenditures in order to remain at least within calling distance of our tax revenues was pointed up in Washington when Secretary of Agriculture Benson appeared before a Senate appropriations sub-committee where bipartisan opposition to proposed cuts in the agriculture appropriations was voiced by Senator Russell (D-Ga.) and Senator Thye (R-Minn.).

Secretary Benson has proposed a $110 million dollar cut in the soil conservation subsidy program for the coming fiscal year, and a $15 million dollar cut in the rural telephone Joan program. Any cut in appropriations will undoubtedly cause some embarrassment to members of Congress. Constituents from "back home" will have complaints, some real and some imagined, that their elected officials are falling down on the job of milking the federal treasury.

In his testimony, Secretary Benson put the entire problem in a few words. "The time has come when we must face the hard facts of squaring our spending with our income." If almost every family in the United States can and must live on this same premise, why can't the elected government do the same? The leadership of the Eisenhower administration must take the initiative in reversing the spendthrift policies followed by former administrations, but any large savings must be supported by the courage, honesty and integrity of the members of Congress. The alternative to reduced spending will mean increased and not decreased taxes. The choice is clear and plain, and the decision must be taken while productivity is high. Failure to channel federal spending into necessary projects and not appealing projects will force the taxpaying public to further sacrifices and continued if not higher taxes.

There is no doubt that some very good projects will have to be curtailed or cut out altogether in the interest of economy and economic salvation. Pressure groups will take great offense and highly vocal offense at "their" sacrifice. As in the instance of our own family, however, when some wanted appliance or feature cannot be worked into the budget it is deferred or forgotten, and the same reasoning must be followed by the elected officials of our country if the country is to have the benefit of reduced taxes with its cash relief benefits playing a large part in the peace of mind of the wage earner and the housewife.

A Good Starter

President Eisenhower has adopted the recommendation of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. by asking Congress to take the Government out of the rubber business through legislation which will authorize the Administration to sell its synthetic plants to private industry.

That is a good beginning.

But the Government also should be taken out of the private banking business by abolition of the RFC.

Then Congress should start at the top of the alphabet and work down.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Fair Warning, Ike!

Dear Ike:

Don't let the golf bug bite too deeply. The voters are beginning to worry. They know what golf can do to a man "if he don't watch out" and they are haunted by a fear the next four years may be influenced more by missed putts than by world events. After all, they gave you a mandate to deal with a global crisis not with a back-swing. If they had wanted a golfer in the White House they would have elected Ben Hogan. No man who beat Hitler should have to show he can beat ninety.

No one begrudges you a good clean hobby and a routine that will shock you of some of your heavy burdens. But from that day when you brushed off a baseball opening to keep a date on the links there has been considerable alarm both for you and for the country. I even heard a rumor you might transfer the seat of government to Augusta, Georgia. I know this is untrue but I am still afraid I will pick up a paper and read that you have turned the White House balcony, changed the layout of the Blue Room so the "approach" will be easier and replaced the portrait of Abe Lincoln with a group painting of Jones, Hagen and Sarzen.

Hoover, the last Republican President, lost because he used a putter when the hole called for a driver. He stood in the traps and insisted that a "birdie" was just around the corner. Landon failed because, with the ball still in a puddle, he declared the situation called for patience instead of new ground rules. Willkie and Dewey failed because the air was so full of flying divots that nobody could get a clear view of the green.

Remember, Ike, that Lincoln's famous "forescore and seven" did not refer to a nine-hole score, George Washington played his toughest waterhole in rowboats and Teddy Roosevelt shot lions, not eagles. Golf has been no good in government. Take Cal Coolidge—he did fairly well because he could look any golf invitation in the face and say, "I do not choose to join."

Keep your eye on Malenkov, not the golf ball. Stand closer to the global crisis, no matter how far you stand from the ball. Take care that you don't do so much golfing that history will declare you "first in peace, first in war and last out of the country-club locker room." The sandtraps are no place to balance a budget. When you ask the caddy what club to use to cut taxes all is lost. "I must have looked up" will

To the Editor of The Daily Record Dear Sir:

There is a lot of fuss about dogs running loose. If some of them would not let their children run wild over everybody's yards and garages doing more damage destroying shrubbery and scratching automobiles they would do more in taking care of their children. Also the large trucks and bad cars using Scott St. as a thoroughfare from 5th St. to 9th St. and from 9th St. to 5th St.

Yours truly,
A Taxpayer.

To the Editor:

To whom it may concern:

Any person who is a good citizen will not litter the highways and properties adjoining same with their garbage and trash. We are living in a beautiful country and should try to keep it attractive but how can this be done when irresponsible people take for granted that just any roadside is a dumping ground. One highway for instance is the route from Mount Pocono to Pocono Summit on through to Pocono Lake. Especially from Mount Pocono to Pocono summit it is littered with boxes, garbage, trash, even coal ashes. Several people have been seen using these grounds for this purpose. Their names are known and their car license numbers also. It is advisable that this practice be discontinued or the owners of the properties will take action against persons disrespecting other people's property. If necessary the names of these persons will also be published.

The Daily Record,
Stroudsburg, Pa.

Attn. Mr. Horace G. Heller
Dear Mr. Editor:

The meetings recently held by the Joint Venture school boards of Hamilton, Chestnuthill, Poole, Ellington and Ross townships would give one reason to believe that the majority rule or vote like a good many other of our old American customs has gone out of style.

These meetings were to be held for the purpose of selecting a site for the proposed new High School, and a committee of Board members examined the proposed sites. These were then returned to open meetings for discussion and vote, by the board.

Both of these meetings produced the same results, with one exception, the board members voted and on both occasions the majority vote was for a site other than the one that the minority leader was able to force upon this Joint Venture School Board.

The initial cost of this site is not only going to be an added burden to the tax payers but preparation for building purposes will involve extra costs in drainage. Safety the most important factor in schools today is at a minimum at this location.

The site voted for in majority vote, but defeated thru minority pressure would cost the tax payers less money and contains that factor of safety necessary for a Public School? The distance between the two sites is relatively small and could have no real bearing on final selection.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES HENDRY,
Gilbert, Pa.

George Sokolsky Says...

Unless Fighting In Korea Is War, It Cannot End In Peace--And Who Are The Principals?

The Mysterious Peace

Unless the fighting in Korea is a war, it cannot end in a peace. That is undoubtedly the difficulty that the various statesmen face. Also, if the two principals in all this are not the United States and Soviet Russia, who are they? If North Korea is one of the principals, why is not South Korea the other?

Like so much else that has been happening in our world since 1938, nothing ever comes out mathematically. For instance, the European War started in 1939, because Germany, assisted by Russia, violated the territorial sovereignty of Poland, and a few treaties as well. When the war was ostensibly over, Soviet Russia owned Poland, which had practically ceased to be a sovereign country. At Potsdam, it was agreed that a number of countries that had been "liberated" from the Germans were to establish governments of their own choice by "democratic means." This has not happened.

Instead, these countries were conquered, as though by war, by Russia. Yet, the Russians are members of the United Nations as a "peace-loving country," while Spain and Ireland, which conquered no peoples, are excluded from the United Nations. Nationalist China, the recognized government of that country since 1927, fought Japan since 1931, our ally since 1941, has been driven off the United Nations through the efforts of the Americans.

Having created the United Nations in the image of their moral and legalistic conception of international society, the Western powers proceeded to make particularly dangerous use of it; they protested systematically—and for reasons of pure principle—against the integration of the Eastern European countries into

Police Team Up To Solve 35 Burglaries, Seven Forgeries

Adult, Five Juveniles Apprehended

Some 35 burglaries and larcenies, seven cases of forgery and two instances of sodomy have been cleared up by an amazing demonstration of police patience and team work, authorities announced yesterday.

Involved in the long and brilliantly conducted piece of police action were State Police of the Stroudsburg barracks, police of East Stroudsburg, Delaware Water Gap and Stroudsburg.

Principals in one of the most massive crime lists solved by police are an adult and five juveniles.

Said Pfc. Alex Kearns of the State Police, who began working on the burglary-larceny phases of the case last December 23:

"One thing led to another. More and more police became connected with the case and it all developed because of fine cooperation."

Other principals in the investigative work said:

"We all had a hand in one phase or other of the case. Everybody worked together."

Chief of Police Fred Decker of Delaware Water Gap Asst. Chief of Police Travis J. Seese of East Stroudsburg, both of whom developed or helped to develop solutions to specific phases of the crime rampage, both emphasized that the cooperative action of many officers did the trick.

State Police said Seese concentrated on the forgeries and sodomy matters.

It was the burglaries of summer cottages and lairly of tires, gasoline and contents of cars in Smithfield Township which set the case in motion.

It was here that Pfc. Kearns began his investigative work. Cottages burglarized include many on the Island—the lower tip of the island on which the Shawnee golf course is located.

Larcenies covered homes and cars also in the Smithfield Township region.

The five juveniles are from Delaware Water Gap and vicinity—one resides on a Stroudsburg R. D. route in the Cherry Valley region, police said.

Two of the five were involved in the morals charge, police said, with a man they described as Raymond Brady, 39, formerly of Scranton. Brady is held in Monroe County jail on the sodomy charge. Police said he had been employed at a regional hotel.

Police conferred yesterday with District Attorney Elmer D. Christie. They said the conference dealt with what future action would be taken in the morals case based on findings that Brady may require an examination.

Forgeries, police said, occurred when juveniles signed various names to checks they had picked up in cottages during their burglary forays in Smithfield Township, police announced.

Authorities said two of the checks were passed in East Stroudsburg, four in Stroudsburg and one in Hackettstown, N. J. Police said they "believed" the seven checks were all that were passed.

The "breaks" in the case piled up and for a time each one uncovered some new phase of violation of the criminal laws. Constant contact and exchange of information between all police officers involved set up the entire case, authorities said.

Students Who Work Need S.S. Cards

Students planning to work this summer in commerce or industry, or as regular domestic employees, will need social security cards. Miss Marie T. Miller, manager of the Eastern social security office, said yesterday.

She urges them to apply now at the nearest social security office if they do not have a social security card or need to replace a lost card.

There is no charge for a card and no minimum age requirement. Application blanks are available at any postoffice, employment office or social security office, Miss Miller said.

She pointed out that it takes several days to get a social security card, so she advised them not to wait until an employer tells them that they can't go to work until they have a card. "Apply for a card now," Miss Miller said.

Any young person who has worked in employment covered by social security long enough to have been paid wages of $50 or more in six different calendar quarters is insured under social security at least until he is 24 years old. If he dies leaving no wife, a lump-sum amount is payable to whom ever pays his burial expenses. If he leaves a widow, the lump-sum goes to her. If he leaves a widow and one child monthly benefits may be payable to both of these survivors until the child is age 18.

THE CASE OF...

he broken Mirror

Bert meant to replace the broken rear-view mirror on the outside of his car—tomorrow. As often occurs—tomorrow stretched into a week . . . then another week.

When Bert pulled out to pass a slower-moving vehicle in front of him—he failed to see that another car in back had already started to pass him. Result—a crippling accident for Bert and for an occupant in the car that crashed into his.

A rear-view mirror, a small item in itself, is the "eye" in back of your head—allows you to see what is going on in back of you and to the sides of you while you are driving.

You must have this "rounded" vision of the road to be a safe driver. It is important that you replace a broken or blemished mirror immediately.

It is equally important that you take care to repair or replace other safety devices in your car at the first symptom of failure. Broken or faulty headlights or taillights cause deadly accidents. Failure of windshield wipers to work can obscure your vision at a fatal moment.

If your horn doesn't sound as you approach a crossing—you can be partner to a tragic collision. Worn brakes will fail to stop you in an emergency. Badly worn tires may cause you to skid into danger. When split seconds count—when you must swerve your car out of the way of stationary or moving object—too much play in your steering wheel can mean lives lost.

EVERY ONE OF YOUR CAR'S SIGNAL AND SAFETY DEVICES IS PUT THERE TO PROTECT LIVES AND PROPERTY. They will not protect you unless they are in working condition. It is your duty to maintain your car safely—so that you may drive it safely.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Seemed as if everybody in the county was at Pocono Manor last night—but with all that fabulous make-up it was hard to tell whether that was really you or somebody made up to resemble you.

SORT OF peculiar to see Woodrow Wilson chatting with Mrs. Humphrey, and Winston Churchill waving at Judge Davis. Hard to make up your mind which one was real.

Really a tremendous job, Mrs. Humphrey and her committee did up there, and some very amusing fashions, too. I'm longing for the day I see somebody in Monroe County wearing those tight burlap pants with strategically embroidered red roses.

And even cottons have gone three-dimensional this year with three-dimensional daffodils, roses, and whatnot nodding from some of the fabulous cotton skirts.

WHAT THEY'RE doing with cotton this year is a caution—sprinkling it with rhinestones, hanging it with pirate gold. The colors for summer, by the way, are charcoal gray, tobacco brown, coronation pink, Elizabeth blue, and firemen's red.

Well, none of us will see the coronation—but we'll feel as if we had after last night. That is if you got home at all after parking somewhere around Pocono Pines, and hiking back. Really were almost that many people there.

Daffodils Make Sunshine For Patients

IT WAS daffodil time at the General Hospital yesterday when the hospital floral arrangement committee of the Monroe County Garden Club brightened the patients' trays with yellow twin daffodils, combined with Japanese barberry foliage and the daffodil spears.

The daffodils were donated by Mrs. W. R. Erickson from her garden. A total of 114 bouquets were arranged including those for the nurses, the kitchen, and the reception desk and hospitality room. Mrs. W. R. Erickson was assisted in the arrangements by Mrs. John Teisher and Mrs. Elwood Grant.

Coronation Comes Early To Poconos in Fashion Show, Ball Given by GOP Council

MOUNT POCONO—Monroe County stole a march on England and saw the Coronation several months ahead of schedule in the Coronation Fashion Show and ball held last night at Pocono Manor under the auspices of the Pocono Mountain Council of Republican Women.

More than 600 men and women from all sections of the county and surrounding areas filled the dining room, where a runway gave full scope to the fashions of two years ago.

The Coronation fashions of 1933 were presented by Alice Brothers, and featured originals imported from Italy, France and leading designers in this country. The show reached its climax with models bearing remarkable resemblance to the royal family wearing Coronation gowns of fabulous workmanship.

The whole program was woven together through the script prepared by Mrs. George Humphrey, president of the Pocono Mountain Council of Republican Women, and general chairman and commentator for the show.

The program opened with Mamie and Henry Cruse setting off for this year's Coronation, and then after the contemporary fashions flashing back to their trip to Europe which they took in 1902. During the trip, personalities great and small in authentic costumes of the day were introduced.

The May meeting will be held May 12 when the New Jersey State Phytocidist, Dr. A. C. Zuck, of Washington, N. J., will be present. He will speak on "Narcotics, Use and Abuse of the Teenagers."

Mrs. Raymond Scott, program chairman, introduced the Bangor High School drama group, directed by Mrs. Donald Rockwell. The group presented two one-act plays.

Refreshments will be served by the mothers of grades one, two and three.

Life of Riley
By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Stroudsburg High school's baseball team picked up yesterday right where it left off last May—beating Catasauqua. The scene had changed from Palmerston to Tannersville, but the final count in both locations found Stroudsburg on the winning end of the score. Yesterday's victory was a team conquest in every sense of the word, but the brilliant two-hit pitching of Bill "Bump" Metzger was the talk of the area last night. Bill and his teammates combined to pound out a 7-1 victory on the unfamiliar footing of the Pocono High field, in Tannersville.

The game was played in Tannersville because Gordon Giffels field didn't have its face lifting job completed by game time. Authorities at Pocono High had the field in very good condition for this early date, even going so far to mark off the field according to stipulations. In other words, Pocono High cooperated to an outstanding degree to make the Stroudsburg-Catasauqua game possible in this area. The only thing the Pocono High authorities didn't take care of was the weather. It was bitter cold and a gale-like wind swept over the field throughout the game.

Metzger's counterpart, Harley Fatzinger, was the only Catasauqua player with any hits in his bat. The rival hurler doubled to right in the third and lined a single to left in the sixth. The right field double was a wind blown affair that Ben Miller would have caught on a normal day. But, the single to left in the sixth was a well hit ball, on which Jim "Red" Makosky made a good play to keep a run from scoring. Makosky and Williams had the hardest hit balls for Stroudsburg, both into right field. Makosky's double was a scorching just inside the first base bag and it probably was the hardest hit ball of the entire game.

Karl Weingartner came up with the fielding gem of the contest, when he went deep behind second scooped up Jim Freed's grounder and threw the Catasauqua second baseman out at first base in the fifth frame. Dick "Pickles" Hintze also turned in a fine defensive game at third base. Al Adelmann caught Fatzinger's fly to center on the final play of the game and received credit for the only putout by a Stroudsburg outfielder in the contest. Ray Hogrefe warmed up almost constantly throughout the game—but Metzger never made the young righthander's services necessary.

Stroudsburg's dozen new uniforms arrived at noon yesterday, just in time to be passed out for the game, although not in time to have the numbers and letters put on the shirts. Two uniforms were torn in the first game. Weingartner tore the knee of his pants stealing home in the first frame. Williams ripped his pants on an attempted steal of second, also in the first inning. Harry Werkheiser, Pocono coach; Dr. John Lim, Andy Weingartner, Sr.; Roger Shook, Ralph "Peanuts" Moyer and Sam Russell, were among the interested spectators.

Metzger had trouble with his control at times, especially in the first frame. The lack of control may be placed on the fact that the little lefty worked off a mound for the first time this spring. All the Stroudsburg hurlers have been forced to practice without a mound, due to the fact that Gordon Giffels field is undergoing an extensive repair job. Metzger was in complete control of the game once his curve ball began to break, in about the third frame. From that point on there was no doubt about the outcome.

Coach Jerry Stulgatis wasn't tempting fate even a little bit, even with his charges leading 7-1 going into the seventh and final inning. The kids began packing away the hats, only to be ordered to unpack the bag by the veteran coach. Since all the hats weren't put away, I guess no harm was done, as Metzger pitched his way out of a mild jam in the last inning and the Mountaineers were off and flying in the general direction of their second straight Lehigh Valley League diamond championship.

Seven Catasauqua errors were greatly responsible for the Stroudsburg victory, as only two of the winning runs were of the earned variety. There was a good turnout of Stroudsburg High students at the game, despite the fact that it was played in Tannersville. University of Pittsburgh and Rutgers football backers are showing an intense interest in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg football players of late. The Danny O'Connell who homered for the Pittsburgh Pirates against the Phillies the other day is the same O'Connell who played third base for Bloomingdale, N. J., North Atlantic League, at Giffels field in 1946.

Ray Welsh, scout for the Pirates, has been showing several members of the Stroudsburg High diamond organization some of the finer points of the game. Rev. Ernest T. Campbell braved the elements to see his beloved Giants take on the Dodgers yesterday.

Metzgar Stops Rough Riders On Two Hits

SAFE—Bob Wert, Catasauqua shortstop, is pictured moving into third base safely in the first inning yesterday as Stroudsburg third sacker Dick "Pickles" Hintze awaits a throw from first baseman Floyd "Willie" Williams. Williams attempted to force Wert at third after failing to come up with a sacrifice bunt. Wert went on to score Catty's only run, as Stroudsburg won the game, 7-1.

Dodgers Capture Night Game To Split Pair With Giants

New York, (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers took sole possession of first place in the National League last night with a 16-hit barrage against five New York pitchers for a 12-4 victory over the Giants before 29,406 filled Polo Grounds patrons. New York won the afternoon half of the day-night twin bill, 6-3.

Bill Los, who went all the way for the Dodgers, had a shutout until the eighth.

Carl Furillo started the Brooklyn fireworks in the night game with a Polo Ground special homer barely 290 feet with Don Thompson and Gil Hodges on base in the fifth inning. Brooklyn added three more runs in that frame and four in the sixth to end all doubts as to the outcome.

Makosky opened the fifth with a scorching double down the right field line and remained on second while Miller drew a walk. Al Adelmann sacrificed both runners up a notch and Layton Dehaven walked to fill the bases. Metzger struck a blow in his own behalf by stroking a solid single to center, scoring Makosky and Miller to make the count read 6-1.

Stroudsburg added an insurance marker in the top of the sixth, when Weingartner singled, went to second on a one-ply blow by Williams and scored on an error by the second baseman, when the latter failed to pick up Miller's bouncer.

Fatzinger, the rival hurler, robbed Metzger of a no-hit game, when he doubled to right in the third and singled solidly to left in the fifth. The double was a wind blown hit that would probably been caught on a calm day.

The Rough Riders threatened only once after the first inning, when a single and two walks filled the sacks in the fifth. But, Metzger saved the day by fanning Nicklas in the second, when the latter failed to pick up Miller's bouncer.

Williams, the rival hurler, robbed Metzger of a no-hit game, when he doubled to right in the third and singled solidly to left in the fifth. The double was a wind blown hit that would probably been caught on a calm day.

A CAMP FIRE TIP...

THANKS TO
MR. L. W. LACEY OF GUNNISON,
COLORADO, WHO SENT IT TO US!

TRY TWO LOGS OF EQUAL DIAMETER ABOUT A FOOT APART AND PARALLEL. BUILD A FIRE BETWEEN THEM. WHEN IT BURNS DOWN TO RED HOT COALS ROLL THE LOGS CLOSE ENOUGH TO SET POTS AND PANS ALONG THE TOP. IT'S A GOOD COOKING SURFACE AND THE FIRE CAN BE STRUNG OUT BETWEEN LOGS FOR MORE UTENSILS. IF LOGS ARE GREEN THEY MAY BE USED TO COOK SEVERAL MEALS ON. TRY TO PLACE LOGS SO THE MOST CONSTANT BREEZES GO BETWEEN THEM.

Browns Defeat White Sox, 6-4

Chicago (AP) — The St. Louis Browns chased 36-year-old Joe Dobson in a five-run seventh to whip the Chicago White Sox, 6-4, yesterday before 972 hardy fans who watched in gloomy 36-degree weather.

Big Inning

The big Brownie inning broke a 1-1 tie which St. Louis had shared on Vic Wertz's first homer of the season in the fifth.

Tigers Decision Indians, 6-5

Detroit (AP)—Matt Batts, fighting for the number one catching job on the Detroit Tigers, delivered a clutch triple in the bottom of the ninth inning yesterday to give the Bengals a 6-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Singleton

With the Tigers trailing by one run and Johnny Pesky on second, Batts drove a run-scoring triple to centerfield and, moments later, his relief runner, Freddie Hatfield, skipped home with the winning run on Owen Friend's fly ball.

Cleveland

Cleveland had scored once in the top of the ninth on Dale Mitchell's run-producing single.

Almost lost in the ninth inning excitement was a pair of two-run homers by the Tigers' Jim Delius. He hit them in the second and sixth innings, the second one tying the score, 4-4.

Cleveland scored four times in the third inning, two of three runs crossing on Luke Easter's 400-foot double.

Detroit ..... 020 002 002— 6 7 0

Church Pays Tribute To Dr. Kitto

Dr. C. W. Kitto, who for the past six years has served as the district superintendent of all the Methodist churches in the North District of the Philadelphia Conference of the Methodist Church, was honored this week by the official board of stewards and leaders of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

The tribute was in the form of a farewell banquet served by the Sunshine Class of the church school to Dr. and Mrs. Kitto and the officials of the church. Rev. Roger Stinson, pastor of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

Following the banquet there was a brief program directed by Dale H. Learn, secretary of the official board and lay leader of the north district. Mr. Learn introduced the pastor of the church, Rev. Harold C. Eaton, who brought greetings to the honored guests.

Mr. Learn introduced the other guests, including Rev. Ralph Fletcher, pastor of the Analogomink charge; Dr. Arthur Henderson, a former pastor at Sand Hill and Wesley Chapel churches; Rev. Kenneth Heckman, student pastor at the Raubsville Methodist church.

Mrs. Sturges Robert, president of the Woman's Society for Christian Service, brought greetings from the women of the church and presented Mrs. Kitto with a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Kitto responded briefly.

Mrs. Maude Stem, teacher of the Sunshine Class, was selected to speak officially for the board of stewards in honoring Dr. and Mrs. Kitto. Mrs. Stem voiced the sentiments and feelings of the members of the board in her praise of Dr. Kitto and concluded by presenting a traveling case to Dr. Kitto. This tribute was accepted with a verbal response by Dr. Kitto. The program was closed with benediction by Dr. Henderson.

Immediately following the program the group retired to the Sunday school auditorium where the fourth quarterly conference of the church was held under the direction of Dr. Kitto for his final time.
